SPIDERMAN SHOW

CADSPIDERMAN.COM

Hello!

Cadspiderman combines "CAD," the abbreviation for the Canadian dollar, introduced in 1858 as the official currency of Canada, and "Spiderman," the iconic main character I will be working for in my freelance project.

This branding began as I started "Web Development" in my studies.

My name is Eddie Ramirez, and I am an international student and graphic designer at Canada International Royal Arts. I graduated with a diploma in "Web Development and Media Design." One of my favorite school projects was definitely #cadspiderman for the subject "Web Development." For this project, I created a website for a new company, utilizing all my graphic design skills to ensure its success. This included Graphic Design, E-Marketing, Social Media, Branding, and Publicity.

An interesting opportunity arose when a pretty woman asked me to perform as Spider-Man for her son's birthday party. She even bought me my first costume. At the party, I combined my 20 years of experience as an acrobatic dancer and teacher to create an amazing adventure for the kids. The energy and fun were incredible, and it led to my first customer hiring me as a Spider-Man stunt performer for another event.

I have always believed that the best marketing is honest recommendations, so I decided to create a small company focused on entertaining kids' parties. This venture allows me to blend my graphic design skills with my passion for performing, creating memorable experiences for children.
